Parallon and Cerner Announce Collaboration to Deliver Revenue Cycle Services

Cerner's Clients Will Have Access to Parallon's Leading Patient Eligibility and Advocacy, Early-out and Bad Debt Services

NASHVILLE, Tenn. – March 15, 2018 – Parallon, a leading provider of revenue cycle management services, and Cerner, a leader in health care technology and services, announced today a reseller agreement to deliver Parallon's patient eligibility and advocacy, early-out and bad debt services to *Cerner RevWorks*SM current and prospective revenue cycle management clients.

"Both Parallon and Cerner are committed to delivering an unrivaled patient and financial experience spanning the revenue cycle. We look forward to working with Cerner RevWorks to bring their clients access to our innovative revenue cycle management technologies and customer service in a way that is streamlined and cost-effective. This will further each client's mission of serving patients and communities," said Shannon Dauchot, chief executive officer of Parallon's Revenue Cycle Point Solutions division. By leveraging Parallon and Cerner's approach to revenue cycle management, this agreement gives Cerner RevWorks clients the opportunity to reduce the number of partners and managed interfaces, which can help them optimize their revenue.

"We are excited to bring Parallon's experience in self-pay revenue cycle optimization and patient-first philosophy to our clients. As we continue to advance and grow our offerings, this alliance will further Cerner's position as a full-service revenue cycle management provider," said Jeff Hurst, senior vice president of Cerner Revenue Cycle Management and president of Cerner RevWorks.
